THE LOCAL election, yesterday, for delegate to Congress, was apparently one of the quietest ever held in the territory. The "libera" enthusiasm had been exhausted in "making Rome howl," and similar expressions in public balls by gentlemen ambitious to be leaders. The voters seemingly to be leaders. The union section of the country is bad no enthusias to begin with, and the orators could breed none in them. The vote was chockingly light. We have returns from the orineinal towns where the liberals are publican gain of 185, a republican gain of 87, a re expected their big figures, and they show such almost incredibly light voting that the correctness of the dispatches were at first questioned. Mr. Campbell is certainly not popular in Utah, nor does the liberal cause seem to be in the flourishing condition that some would have us believe it to be. After hearing from yesterday's work the Liberals of Utah and Mr. Allen

S. Campbell ought to subside.

As will be observed, most of the Heralin's news space, this morning, is given up to the publication of the returns from yesterday's elections. The readers may "wade" through the democratic candidates in searly is berond doubt elected to Congress in place of Frest, democrat, in the Third District. the dispatcher, when they will know District. all concerning the great contest that we know. At this writing it would not be absolutely safe to wager that that the republican prospect is the trighter. All depends upon New York, and the dispatches from there indicate that the republicans have gains and democrats sustain losses even in democratic districts and counties. However, when we reflect that a republican coloring is invariably given to all ing is invariably given to all states that are now regarded as doubtful cannot make good the 35 Excelsion electoral votes. The south has doubt less gone solidly for the democratic nomineer. The republicans are claiming two or three scuthern states, but they can give no figures upon which to found their claims. It is noticeable that very little reliable news has come from any of the doubtful states. A good deal is "claimed," but figures which alone can decide. are not given. Two or three days must elapse before definite information can be obtained. In the mean time all democrats will hope that "things are not what they seem."
